

Nueces County Causeway Will Connect Two Counties

W. L. Pearson and Company, Inc., of Houston are now engaged in building the Nueces County causeway which will more effectively link San Patricio County and other counties North with Nueces County. The causeway will cost $165,000, this cost to be supplemented by $50,000 that San Patricio County will spend in building the approach from the San Patricio side.

The causeway will be completed and opened to traffic by next September 15.

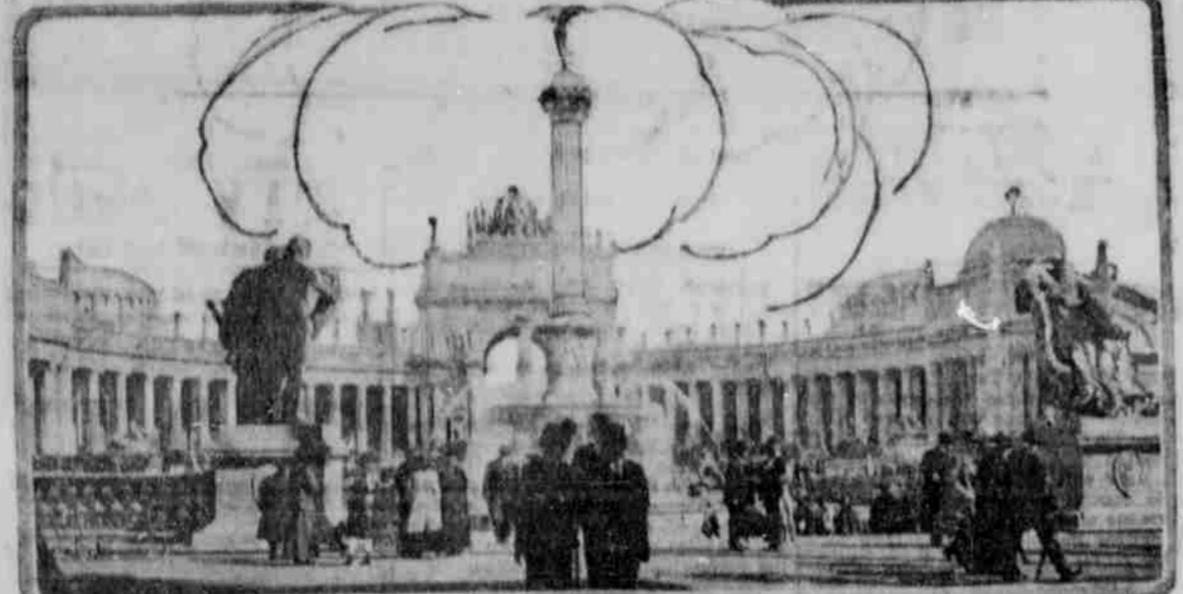

CONGESTION ON LONDON BOCKS HURT WOOL SALES

LONDON, May 3.—The fourth series of Colonial wool auctions which should have opened on April 29, has had to be postponed till April 27, owing to the continued congestion of the docks and difficulty in getting new arrivals into warehouses. The wool sold in the last series has been moving off very slowly to Bradford and there is a great block at the docks which increases with practically every fresh boat arriving. These difficulties it appears, are allowing to come up to unload only perishable goods.

There has been practically no wool changing hands since the close of the recent auctions for the reason that buyers are unable to get delivery of purchases made last month. Prices are not expected to be changed from those current at the end of March. At present the trade is faced with a steady flow of raw materials in the manufacturing centers, plenty of wool in sight but unable to move and "flock" particularly scarce, commanding almost sky price.

The postponement of the sales it is hoped will give many Americans a better opportunity of getting over to participate. Licenses are said to have been granted rather more freely for American purchases made during the

THE MIGHTY COURT OF THE UNIVERSE, THE HUB OF THE ARCHITECTURAL SCHEME AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

All visitors to the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco at some time during their stay at the exposition make their pilgrimage through the Court of the Universe. This is the largest court on the grounds and is the central radiating unit of the architectural and ground plans. Noble sculptured groups embellish it, the two Homeric groups—the Nations of the East and the Nations of the West—surmounting the giant arches at the east and west portals. By night the beauty of the court is enhanced by the flood lighting effects.

but series or two-lot shipment is frequently delayed by transportation difficulties and the Admiralty commanding officers at the last moment. A case in point is the steamer "Colombia" which has quite a large quantity of wool en route for Boston. The Government authorities decided to have this particular load fitted up with horses in order to bring back a consignment of brooms from the United States. Consequently the sailing was delayed.

A Lyon, Mass., schoolboy who had sprained his ankle, notified his teacher by wireless that he would not be able to come. Through the school operator, sympathy was wireless back to the boy.

LONDON SOCIETY PAYS TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

LONDON, May 3.—At the Lincoln anniversary meeting held by the British, the following tribute to the great American was paid by Viscount James Bryce in a letter to the society:

He belongs first of all to the United States, whose maintenance as a free Republic, one and invisible, he did more than any other man to secure.

He likewise also is democratic to the English race and to the world.

He belongs to the world because he stands out like George Washington, as an instance of high greatness and unending fame may be achieved by the simple virtues when subjected to trial by dazzling genius like Julius Caesar or Napoleon, not by consummate statescraft and a ruthless will like Richelieu or Machiavelli, but by unwavering devotion to duty, by patriotic and courageous and self-sacrificing act, by wise confidence and the love of the people, and leave like Washington, nameless to inspire all who, in the Old World or the New, may seek to render useful service to their country.

The year is not much farther from London than New York is from Philadelphia. London, therefore, must take strict measures to protect herself. "At a moment when health is of vital importance," comments Professor Simpson, "we cannot afford to overlook any precaution. The effect upon hours of labor above would be immense if an epidemic should arise; the effect of alcohol excess would be quite insignificant in comparison."

"Various measures of protection are now in force. Everyone who transverses the Channel recently knows that a medical examination is carried out at Folkestone before passengers are permitted to land. This measure should be more vigorously applied as the summer advances."

"It has been recently suggested that inoculation against typhoid should be carried out among the civilian population of England. There is much to be said in favor of this idea. England is at present full of camps in which large numbers of people are crowded together. These camps are models of good management, nevertheless there are certain dangers which are unavoidable. The typhoid carrier is one of them; he is not himself ill, but he carries the germ of the disease and infects other people."

The question of fly destruction has already been dealt with. The best way to avoid this is to keep scrupulously clean premises and to leave nothing in an edible character uncovered."

PLAN NATIONAL BOARD TO REGULATE FOOD SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Administration is considering a proposal for the creating of a national marketing commission, to devise a better system for the distribution of agricultural products, to investigate warehouse conditions, and to work out the problems affecting the nation's food supply and demand. While no definite course has been approved, the Department of Agriculture is said to be in favor of the establishment of such a commission. The President has been asked to appoint an advisory board to study conditions and suggest legislation for the next session of Congress. Among others who have been suggested is David Lamm, founder of the International Institute of Agriculture, of Rome.

INDIAN POWWOW TO WELCOME U. S. COMMISSIONER

TACOMA, Wash., May 3.—The Indians of the far Northwest are planning a big powwow, the fifth in the series, to take place this summer when Commissioner Wells, head of the National Indian department, is expected to visit them. The red men have been urging the Commissioner to come, and he will be assisted in the various negotiations in an effort to convince him that more land should be allowed to the Indians, particularly to those Indians who are said to be in want.

BRITISH ARE PREPARING AGAINST TYPHOID DISEASE

HEALTH AUTHORITIES TAKE PROMPT MEASURES FOR PROTECTION OF SOLDIERS

LONDON, May 3.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The inconstancy of the British censorship causes the daily news to remain.

As every newspaper knows to its sorrow, the censor has the strangest notions of what should be suppressed; even quotations from Sir John French's dispatches, or from standard works and political discussions, which can by stretch of fancy reveal military or naval secrets, have been known to fall under the ban.

After saying that the papers are all more than willing to assist in keeping

CHINESE IN AMERICA TO ASK AID FOR REVOLUTION

HONG KONG, May 3.—That the Chinese will witness a big revolution in China against the ruling Yuan Shih Kai government of Peking, Dr. Li, secretary of the Chinese National League of Friends, who is called a "convention of American Christians" here, says. The Chinese are thus to趁机 (make use of) the present opportunity to do something for themselves. The next day he will be in Peking to see the progress of the revolution. According to Dr. Li, the Chinese are becoming increasingly restive and the first rebellion in southern Manchuria is being prepared for and is expected to break out in Chihli province to Dihua, where he is reported to be directing the plan in China for the rebellion against Yuan Shih Kai. Yuan is incomprehensible to the Chinese, who was speaker of the House of Commons, and was a member of the Cabinet.

While the press does not need to hear with certainty of disturbances in the Chinese interior, it is important to know that the Chinese are becoming more and more restive, and the government of the United States, which has been giving exhibitions of his wonderful powers in this country,

BRITISH PRESS COMPLAIN OF STRANGE CENSORSHIP

LONDON, May 3.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The British health authorities are preparing elaborate measures to prevent any widespread epidemics of diseases like cholera, typhus, scarlet fever, diphtheria or typhoid either in this country or among the British soldiers abroad. There is widespread anxiety that some diseases of this character will make their appearance in force in the Western part of the Continent during the next few months.
